

MAK 4 1962

Sanitized Copy Approved for Release 2010/04/09: CIA-RDP75-00149R000500450078-6 MONTGOWERY, ALA.

ADVERTISER

MORNING 64,912 SUNDAY 83,159

SECOND-GUESS ARTIST

The Nashville Tennessean American

Puchard Nixon obviously enjoyed his stint on the Jack Paar show the other night. As a guest star he was pleasant and good humored but as a politician he was brimming over with goody second guessing with gaudy second guessing.

as a politician he was brimming over with gaudy second guessing.

He commented on a wide range of subjects, tossed some reverse-English criticism at Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy, and was free widefing in the criticism of the administration, cularly on Cuba.

Former presidential candidate the tomore to say on Cuba than during the campaign. Mr. must have "took the advice people around him" on the invasion, purred Mr. Nixon. It is advisers, of course, was ver from the Eisenhower-ys—Allen Dulles of CIA. And Cuba inherited.

The Nixon went on to liken Kennedy is now doing about treating cancer with iodine, flashback for a moment to debates" of Mr. Nixon and the Here's what the GOP had to say:

Freaties with Latin Amer-howhich we have agreed no terrene in the internal affairs any conjuntry. We are quarant Mr. Castro today cutting the significant items that the people of Cuba them es, will take; care of Mr. Castro

On point after point, Mr. Nixon's words of 1960 are not the same be

Castro

On point after point, Mr. Nixon's words of 1850 are not the same he uses today for the bas become a recitative example of how we are all made wise by finesight.

The second guesser is never an imposing figure; jovial though he may be, and about all that can be said for Mr. Nixon's television commentary is that it was some better than the "Ev and Chartie" show'